PCA MISSION STATEMENT

The Painting Contractors Association serves the coating and wall covering industry with standards, education, training, advocacy, and best practices essential to member success.

SPEAKER BIO

Brandon Lewis grew his painting business from flat-broke to over $1,000,000.00 in repaint sales and 20 employees during the worst recession since the Great Depression, in less than five years, and then went on to sell his business for over $440,000.00 in a still struggling economy. An author and speaker – Lewis' work has appeared in American Painting Contractor Magazine, Paint Contractor Magazine, InPaint Magazine, Professional Painting Contractor Magazine, and PCA educational outlets just to name a few sources.

Brandon has worked with over 450 franchised and independent painting contractors in six different countries ranging from start-ups to $50MM+ to help owners realize their dreams using done-for-you tools and systems coupled with group and one-on-one mentoring. The APPC's educational events, like the annual Painting Profits Summit, the second largest gathering of independent painting contractors in the U.S., are sponsored by industry giants because they believe in the impact the organization is making.
